Documentation to guide the deployment of the software solution

▼ Ensuring compliance with data protection regulations (GDPR)

We don't collect user data for any commercial use. The data provided by users are stored in a database to provide them any future access to it, that's all.